The Stock market was rather duil at opening sales, but was decidedly stronger and better before adjourn ent, and during the remainder of the day continued to improve. At Second Board a further advance was realized in most of the leading stocks, and the disposition to buy was quite general. The most active were New York Central, Cleveland and Toledo, Reading, and Erie. The shorts have undoubtedly been large buyers during the day, but independently of this inflaence in favor of a rise in prices, the Bank Statement, which is even more favorable than had been expected, the announcement of a new arrival of California gold, and the foreign news by steamer Arago, which was adverse as predicted-all contributed to give buoyancy and cheerfolness to the market. There is no material increase of outside bayers yet, and stocks now receive their impulse from those surewd and active operators who first catch the gleams of day. light, and from previous successes are in a condition to avail of the chances offering. It is, however, an underiable fact that everything tends to the restoration of confidence, and a few weeks' continuance of this more cheerful feeling will doubtless attract capital to the Stock Exchange for investment. As compared with closing prices of yesterday, New York Cen'ra' advanced 1 $\P$ cent, Eric 1\(\frac{1}{2}\) Reading 2, Illinois Central \(\frac{1}{2}\), Chicago and Rock Island 2\(\frac{1}{2}\), Michigan Southers declined 1, Panama 1. The feature of the day was the movement in Toledo, of which one operator took some 3,000 shares at the Second Board 30 ±3@ ±10, which was not on the registered list. The movement in Erie arises partly from the favorable statements of Messrs. Moran and Lathers, and a growing belief in the success of these gentlemen in corrying the Company through its embarrassmeats. California State 7s advanced to 60, on the confirmation of the news of a decision by the people to assume a debt temptation to repudiate. The credit of State securities, since the message of the Governor of Missouri and this pox populi verdict in California, has been greatly strengthened. Such examples, in a time of great commercial distress and panic, are worthy of all project, and indicate the growth of popular sentiment against repudiation to an extent which must finally sweep away every vestige of such rascality, in whatever plausible guise it may be presented. A small sale of United States 6s, 1862, was made at 105, the first transaction for a long time. The late steamers have brought out considerable amounts of Government Stocks for redemption, but the bid of the Secretary of the Treasury having been withdrawn, they are on the

and steadily to improvement. Capital is accumulating, but the distrust of almost everything in the way of paper confines negotiations to a narrow limit. In ocal transactions for undoubted signatures, discount rates are quoted at from 2 to 3 P cent P month. Money is more accessible in stock loans of a desirable character. The Banks have been so much strengthened of late, that expansion is becoming more general,

The Arago's news, after a careful analysis, hardly seems to warrant the favorable construction placed upon it in the Street. The basis of the improvement in the Erglish stock and money markets, if an inprovement it can be called, was the slight advance in rices here which was quoted by the last arrivals, and the semewhat over confident proclamation of the New-York Banks, in regard to ability and determination to maintaic specie payments. Since that period extensive mercantile failures have occurred. The Illinois Central, Erie, and Michigan Central Railway Companies have suspended, and the Banks themselves have been forced to the very step which they declared their resolution to avoid. The effect of all this upon the English markets is yet to be witnessed.

The low prices of our stocks and the apparent commercement of a reaction doubtless tempted further orders for favorite American investments; but, when the actual failure of some of these concerns is ammounced, it is questionable whether even John Bull, with all his courageous tenacity, will dare to venture further in support of the securities. The private letters by the Arago are generally cheerful, and cover some considerable orders for our stocks. We hear of lls returned for non-acceptance; but the particulars have not transpired.

The annexed extracts from our foreign files will give the reader an opportunity of forming his own opinion of the markets and of public sentiment in money cireles there:

From The London Daily News of Oct. 19.

The shipments of specie and bullion by the Indus, which will leave Southampton on Tuesday for Alexandria, we had estimated on the 13th inst. as likely to approach £800,000. The exact amount is £777,122, of which about £38,000 consists of gold principally sovereigns, taken from the back), all the rest being silver. The sum destined for the two Chinese ports is only £38,176, owing partly to the fact that the overland mail has brought no advices from that country. The amount dispatched to Calcutta alone approaches half a million. The details are shown below, viz.: For Aden, £3,330: for Ceylon, £1,254; for Bombay, £34,667; for Madras, £45,565; for Calcutta, £431,257; for Penang, £3,836; for Singapore, £29,740; for Hong Kong, £3,7487; and for Shanghai £10,689.

silver is known to have arrived in the week from the Continent, exclusive of the quantity received by railway from the outports.

From The London News, of Oct. 21.

Eight per cent at the Bank! Our market at length actually experiences the effect apprehended from the American panic. That the blow just struck by the Bank is aimed against the attempts of the Americans to supply themselves with capital here, which have already led to a serious decline in the resources of that establishment, is evident from the fact that the measures previously adopted have been found amply sufficient to arrest the drain from this country to the Continent. With the exception of H smburg, where silver forms the basis of the monetary system, and where, consequently, a sudden demand for siver from two or three different quanters will sometimes carry the rate of discount to an extraordinarily high point, the value of money in the leading Continental markets has in no case exceeded 7 per cent; indeed, in most of them the terms are below that figure. Gold, therefore, no longer flows from the Bank of England to the Continent, and a portion of the gold received from Australia is even retained here. Up to this point, the monetary movement has borne a striking resemblance to that witnessed in the Autumns of 1855 and 1856; and, did the existing derangement arise mainly—as at those periode—from the state of affairs on the Continent, the extreme necessity imposed upon us would have been merely that of maintaining our rate of discount at 7 $\psi$ cant until the Continental disturbance had subsided. But with the increased pressure now exercised upon our market by the American paric, and with the consequent rise in the Bank rate continent, the extreme recessity imposed upon as would have been merely that of maintaining our rate of discount at 7 $\cupece can until the Continental disturbance had subsided. But with the increased pressure now exercised upon our market by the American panic, and with the consequent rise in the Bank rate to 8 $\cupece cent, we have suired upon an entirely new phase. The Bank of England, which, from the immense extent of the commerce between England and the United States, is the first to be affected by the American difficulties, will now, probably, instead of following, set the cample to the other great Banks of Europe. Of course, it will be for the latter to watch their position very narrowly, but if they do not raise their rates, in answer to the movement of the Bank of England, the adoption of the 8 $\cupece cent rate here will inevitably give the exchanges be even London and the Continent a fresh turn in our favor. In this way we may be enabled to attract a critain proportion of Continental capital, as a set-off against the grain to America. But it is very possible that the markets on the Continent will not be in a position to permit such diversion of their funds, and in this case their only course is to adopt, in self defence, fresh restrictive measures. Already the Bank of France has made another important movement in that direction, having yesterday raised its terms to 7; $\cupe \text{ cent.}$ We fear that this will prove a sore discouragement to the French commercial classes, who, previous to this crists, were accustomed to regard 6 $\cupe \text{ cent.}$ were accustomed to regard 6 $\cupe \text{ cent.}$ can. We fear that this will prove a sore discouragement to the French commercial classes, but, persions to this crists, were accustomed to regard 6 $\cupe \text{ cent.}$ remains the public between the stream and the same may be said of each monetary institution. Hence the seeming recklessness with which securities of all kinds are thrown upon the market for realization at price almost feature that the

in the market, contributes to this process. As gold is attracted from this side, one new element of relief will be introduced—of course to our temporary inconvenience—into the American market. The worst of the panic may not be over even yet. From one end of the United States to the other, the public mind is thoroughly imbued with a feeling of blind alarm, and no one can venture to assert that the fit of temporary inconvenience—into the American market. one can venture to assert that the nt of temporary in-sanity is yet exhausting itself. Yet every one feels confident that this excessive panic, like all panics of similar intensity, is merely transient, and has been greatly "overdone," and that, when the turn comes, the rebound will be almost equally astonishing. Large fortunes will doubtless be realized by hundreds of operators lucky enough to possess and to employ money at the right moment. Let us not be supposed fortunes will doubtiess be realized by interests of corrators lucky enough to possess and to employ money at the right moment. Let us not be supposed to assert, however, that the effects of the pante will speedily pass away. As regards the foreign trade of the Union, which more immediately concerns ourselves, the disturbing influence will probably be long felt, and the pressure upon our money market will be kept up through the effect upon the exchanges.

On the 13th instant, commenting upon the rise in the Bark rate of discount to 7 P cent, we remarked that "If to avert a foreign drain it should become necessary to raise the value of money to 8 or even 9 P cent, why should panie ensue!" It is most gratifying to observe that confider ce in the general soundness of our commercial position is daily gaining ground. The symptoms indicative of an approach to panie were confised to an early period of the crisis, and have since disappeared. It is universally recognized that our mometary condition must inevitably be affected by the extraordinary convulsion on the other side of the Atlantic, but that the protective measures now necessary will not be of protynged duration, since they will be rescinded directly the foreign pressure is removed. Cases of commercial embarrassment will undoubtedly occur, since many firms here will be involved in a portion of the losses sustained in America. Moreover, each stringent phase of the money market brings to the ground some weak houses, which may be said to exist only through the forbearance of their creditors, and the removal of which really adds to the strength of the general commercial situation. The number of such times is believed to be at present unusually small, and this is another feature which strongly encourages the belief that the nation will pass through the present crisis with unimpaired resources, and with credit raised the higher in proportion to the suddenness and severity of the orical successfully encountered.

London, Oct 20, 1857.

Everything was going on well here, and the money may ket was regaining even an appearance of baoyancy, when the arrival, yesterday, of the Boston steamer, with New-York advices to the 8th, describing a fall in the exchange to 100, caused a renewed stir at the Bank of Ergland and another advance of 14° cent in the rate of discount.

It now stands at 8 $\psi$ cent, beyond which it has never been carried in modern recollection. The only period of such a change was exactly ten years back, at the climax of the railway crisis. It then lasted four weeks, namely, from the 25th of October to the 22d of November, and its effect in arresting the drain of bullion and turning the tide was so powerful, that in twelve months from that time there was a reaction to 3 $\psi$ cent.

The belief is that in the present instance the imme The benefits that in the present instance the immediate pressure will be equally short, although in the face of the Indian mutiny and the Continental extravagances, it would be too much to expect that the ultimate rebound will be so great. If within the next year we get back to 4 or 5 is cent, there will be full reason for artifaction.

rebound will be so great. If within the next year we get back to 4 or 5 to cent, there will be full reason for satisfaction.

Such is the confidence here in the prospect of a speedy change at New-York, that even the last quotations of exchange would probably fail to induce large shipments of specie as a direct speculation. But still a considerable sum is likely to be dispatched, which would have been much heavier but for the stringent measures of the Bank.

It appears that yesterday's mail brought a large number of bills with orders for returns to be made in gold. The disposition of the public to take advantage of the present prices of American securities continues without abatement, and will also operate to increase the outflow. A withdrawal of sovereigns from the Bank in preparation for the present packet has therefore been looked for, and it is expected the Canada, on the 24th, will take a further quantity.

Happily, some large arrivals of Australian gold have taken place at this moment rather unexpectedly, the screw steamer Royal Charter having made the passage from Meibourne in sity-two days, with £364,000. This reached London yesterday, and £130,000 were taken to the Bank, while the remainder went to satisfy the Continental demand. During the three weeks preceding the departure of this vessel, the returns from the gold fields had shown an increase as compared with the corresponding weeks of last year. The previous months had been manked by a comparative decrease.

Although the weekly Bank returns continue to show the corresponding weeks of last year. The previous mouths had been marked by a cemparative decrease.

Although the weekly Bank returns continue to show a large failing off in our builion, the stock is still above the point to which it was reduced when the rate of 8 % cent was resorted to ten years ago. The lowest point then reached was £8,312,691.

The return published on Saurday last showed £10,109,943. There has since been a diminution of about £570,006, but this has been partly caused by the payment of the October dividends. We have still, therefore, an excess of a million sterling as compared with that period.

A panic could be caused only by a fear that really sound securities may become altogether unmarketable, and that the credit of undoubted houses may avail them nothing. Under the bank charter act no such contingency can be apprehended. Every solvent establishment is certain of getting as much as it wants at the fair market rate. The pressure may send that rate up to 10, 20 or 30 % cent, but, whatever it may be, every comer will be supplied.

The movement of the Bank has been received with wooderful equanimity, not only in London, but throughout the country. The currency system established by Sir Robert Peel is now so well understood, and its working is so gradual but certain, that the possibility of a panic is almost out of the question.

Of course the losses sustained by the individual firms, connected with the houses that have stopped in America, must be very great; but hitherto they have been extraordinarily well met. The business community in all parts of Great Britain being in a sound state, most of the principal establishments that have suffered have had a sufficient capital to fall back upon. Up to the present time, not a single house that could previously have been exident capital to fall back upon.

Large as the failures have been at Glasgow, they have almost solely comprised firms that were noto-rious for deficient capital, as compared with the extent of their engagements, and the majority of them, it is believed, would never have acquired any position but from the injudicious support of a powerful local hat k.

It must be repeated that our entire course during the next month depends on the news that may arrive from your side. In reading the present advices, therefore, your readers will only have to glance back at the tidings which may have been carried to us, by the two or three steamers which may lately have sailed, to form a cond estimate of our proceedings.

Upon the receipt of intelligence of a rebound at New-York our 8 & cent rate would be immediately reduced. For the moment, as far as the financial world are concerned, the Indian anxieties are lost

Since the departure of the Persia the only failures have been those of Whan, McLean & Co., and Auld & Buchanan, both of Glasgow. The first is believed to be a small concern, but the liabilities of the latter are fully £100,000. The Glasgow advices also mention that the manager of the Western Bank of Scotland has found it necessary to resign. London has been perfectly free from disaster.

The weather remains unusually warm for the season, and the foliage of the country, untouched by the slightest breath of frost, presents all the green laturiance of June. Heavy rains have brought the land into the condition, and a very favorable time has been experienced for agricultural operations.

The discount houses and joint stock and private banks hold large supplies of money, and have rather unwillingly raised their rate of allowance for loans at call to 7 to cent.

The Louisville Journal of the 31st says:

"There is a decidedly more cheerful feeling in the Money market. The cause of it is in the fact that the barks have loosened their strings and evinced an accommodating spirit during the last few days. They have discounted more liberally. This has of course given relief and dampened the feeling which had arrayed itself against them, not only here, but throughout the State."

The New-Orleans Crescent says:

The New-Orleans Crescent says:

"The receipts of coin this week have been very fair, though not from the quarter expected. It will hep materially. The Tennessee, from Vera Cruz, brings $250,000 in silver, which can be used immediately by recoinage. Although the coinage would not be legal, yet we think half-dollars will be taken for cotton and work in very well. The receipts for the week are nearly $1,000,000. The steamer Philadelphia, due on Monday, will bring a further amount. The Brazoe steamer will also bring some allver.

"The deposits of foreign gold this week at the Mint for recoinage have been $100,000.

"We also learn with great pleasure that $100,000 are expected by the next steamer from Aspinwall, ordered here for investment instead of New-York, instructions for insurance having been received."

HEMF—The market both for Domestic and Foreign exhibite no symptoms of returning activity, and with an ample supply on sale prices are mostly mominal, particularly for Domestic HIDES—We have nothing new to notice; Dry Hides remain stationary; the only domand existing at present is for Singular for export, which are well held, some domanding $6, 37c for City sales to-day of 500 Western Sinushier at 7c for Canada, 500 City do, 70B., at $1c, cash. inal.

LEATHER—Trade is still very inactive, and quotations are meninal, the sales are mainly to cash buyers, as the extensions given to manufacturers have been numerous. We quote Buscos Ayres Light and Middle at 24@25c.; Orimozo do at 22c.; and Heavy at 21c.; French Calf Shims (Enished) have been in good Semand compared with other kinds of stock, mostly for the West. We quote 25th. Skins at $1.00 ft 15; 50th. at $1.00 ft 16; 60th. Sec 26 $1; and 50th. at 30.285c. The stock is moderate.

MOLASSES.—The market is dull and heavy. The stock of Foreign is ample. Domestic, owing to the near approach of the new crop, is quite neglected. Sales of 40 thds. Mucasyado at 12c. cash, and 30 hads. Porto Rico at a price we could not ascertific cash and 30 hads. Porto Rico at a price we could not ascer-

NAVAL STORES—Spirits Turpentine has been in animated demand at the improvement, and with a diminishing stock the tendency of prices is strongly upward; we learn of sales of 1,000 to 1,200 bbls, party in shipping order, at $25.4\frac{1}{2}\text{c}, cash and 30 days, adding interest, of which we were able to trace 990 bbls, at the inside figure for cash. O.L.S.—Dullness is still the prevailing feature of the market. SEEDS—The inquiry is moderate for Clover at 9/2/10c., for vado at $1.275.

SEEDS—The inquiry is moderate for Clover at $1.2750., for expert to the Continent and to Great Britain. Timothy deed is duil at $1.522.$2.$2 bins. A further movement is said to have taken place in Calcutta Linseed in Boston; we learn by telescipt inta some $.000 or 10.000 bags have been purchased at $1.302.$2.$130 per bush, cash and short time, closing buoyantly at the higher rate.

SPICES—Aside from a movement in Pepper, nothing of consequence has been done. Mace is lower-ranall saise at 50c. Nutnegs are quoted at $60. Of Pepper, 1,232 bags were sold for expert at 79 ceash, and 1,232 bags for bound use on terms we could not learn. To the trade small sales are being made at 90c. SkinNS—The inquiry for Goat and Deer continues limited, and prices are decidedly in buyers favor; Curacoa Goat can now be bought at $60c. $5 mos.; but even at this figure buyers have stood alcof, determined not to burden themselves with stock till such time as financial affairs assume a brigater aspect. SALT—The supply is larger, rather in excess of the denand, and prices are lewer; sales of $0.000 bash. Cette at $210c. $4 mos., and two cargoes of Turks Island, some $0.000 bush, on private terms.

mcs., and two cargoes of Turks Island, some 30,000 bush, on private terms.

TEAS—We have to note a growing disposition on the part of the trade to again enter into the spirit of buying and solling. Stocks are moderate, and most of their assortments are quite broken. The low and me flow grades attract the most attention, and prices are well emistateined, fully up to those ruling in September. The anction sale announced for to-morrow (Wednesday) is as was anticipated, postported.

TOBACCO—The transactions are still very limited; sales of 28 thicks. Extracky at 184c, and 73 bits. Havana at a price not told. At anction this morning only 31 hads. Kentucky were sold at $10.00 to the sales.
